

Globalization Program Internships in Italy

Call for Applications

For internships in research centers, universities, cultural organizations and companies in Italy following the semester of courses at VIU.

Published November 7, 2018

The Globalization Program brings together talented, motivated students from VIU's member universities, in a multicultural, international and interdisciplinary environment. The program provides a powerful learning experience in which students develop their capacity for critical thinking and creative problem solving. Students of the Globalization Program are thus more prepared for graduate and professional study and for careers in new and emerging fields.

VIU promotes international mobility by providing internship opportunities and scholarships to students of the member universities. The internships offered through this call are at research centers, universities, cultural organizations and companies in Italy.

Internship Program

The internships will be two to four months long, and must be completed between January and December 2019. The exact dates will be determined according to the needs of the host organization and considering the students' justified preferences.

The internship opportunities in Italy will be in research centers, companies and organizations whose activities are connected to Globalization, Cultural Heritage and/or Sustainable Development. Most of the opportunities will be in the Venice area although some may be in other regions in Italy.

The following internships are available during 2019:

Peggy Guggenheim Collection

A 2-month internship at the Peggy Guggenheim Museum in Venice. Activities include managing the galleries during opening hours to the public, assisting visitors, staffing the ticket office, cloakroom and other visitor facilities, supporting the museum office staff in various departments and participation in the educational activities of the museum, including presentations to the public, guided tours and workshops with children. The program includes educational activities such as seminars, conferences, educational trips and guided tours for interns. The successful candidate may express a preference for the month in which they would like to begin the internship.

Vela SpA – Events division – Carnival of Venice

The selected candidate(s) will contribute to the event production and organization of the Carnevale di Venezia, which will take place from February 16 27 to March 5, 2019. The interns' responsibilities will vary depending on aptitude and previous experience, and may include contributing to media communications, especially social media; supporting the artistic coordination and direction and/or artistic troupes; and/or public relations at the main stage in Piazza San Marco. The internship is very intensive and will start the first week of February (exact date to be confirmed) continuing until March 7, 2019. The intern should expect to be available for long hours during the Carnival.

Other Host Organizations: Depending on the profile of the selected candidate, and subject to the compatible availability of host organization and intern, opportunities with other organizations may be offered. We will continue to work with the partner organizations in building ad hoc projects tailored to the interests and needs of the successful candidates, a feature of the VIU Internship program since it began in 2008. Organizations where VIU students have previously undertaken internships include:

Council of Europe – Venice Office
Fondazione Musei Civici
UNESCO – Venice office

Consult the list of possible host organizations and watch video interviews of previous interns on the VIU website:
www.univiu.org > Study > Internships

Eligibility

All students currently attending the Fall 2018 semester of the VIU Globalization Program are invited to apply for an internship placement in Italy and a mobility scholarship:

- Applicants must be registered for the Fall 2018 semester of the Globalization Program, and taking at least three courses.
- Regular, active participation in the co-curricular program is expected and will be considered an advantage for selection.
- It is not possible for students to compete for scholarships both in Italy and Worldwide (separate calls for application). Students who have already applied for the Worldwide Mobility program may withdraw from that program if they prefer to compete for the opportunities in Italy.
- The internship must be undertaken while the intern is still registered at university.

Scholarships

- Up to five internships will be supported with a € 700 scholarship.
- One internship at the Peggy Guggenheim Collection will be supported with a €1500 scholarship (750 euro per month for two months, paid directly by the Guggenheim).
- Further internship placements without scholarships may be offered to qualified candidates.

All decisions related to the allocation of scholarships will be taken by the selection committee.

Note: VIU has issued a separate call for applications from Master's-level students for Worldwide Mobility. In the event that not all scholarships are awarded for internships outside of Italy, VIU may decide to redistribute resources in favor of internships in Italy, and vice-versa.

How to Apply

Applications must be submitted via the VIU website (www.univiu.org > Study > Internships) by Friday, November 16, 2018 at 11 am.

The following documents must be attached to the application:

1. Curriculum Vitae in English (max. 2 pages)
2. Motivation letter in English (no longer than one A4 page)

The candidates should be available for interviews on Tuesday 20, Wednesday 21 and/or Thursday 22 November 2018.

Selection Committee

The successful candidates will be selected by a committee, having heard the evaluation of the VIU Fall 2018 faculty. The committee is composed of the following members:

1. Prof. Carlo Giupponi, Dean of Venice International University
2. Prof. Luca Pes, Director of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Venice International University
3. Dr. Ilda Mannino, Academic Advisor of the Globalization Program

Conditions

The internship placement and scholarship will be confirmed on the condition that the student has a good attendance record throughout the semester and completes all examinations and evaluations in all courses for which s/he is registered. Furthermore, selected students are expected to participate in the co-curricular activities of the program throughout the semester.

Students who are awarded a scholarship will receive it in two installments: 60% will be paid before the internship commences to allow students pay for travel and/or accommodation costs. The remaining 40% will be paid after the internship, and on condition that the host organization confirms the satisfactory completion of the internship by the student and that the start and end dates of the internship were respected, as stated in the learning agreement, signed by the host organization, VIU and the student.

For any further information refer to:

Orla McLaughlin
Executive Director of Academic Programs
VENICE INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY
Isola di San Servolo
30100 Venice

tel +39.041.2719.511
fax +39.041.2719.510
globalization@univiu.org
www.univiu.org