Venice International University (VIU) is a global consortium of seventeen universities with an autonomous campus on the island of San Servolo, Venice, Italy.

The mission of VIU is to foster cooperation among VIU member institutions while facilitating the exchange of knowledge and ideas.

A successful series of graduate activities is expected to result in the building and strengthening of networks on areas of shared interest within the consortium. The medium-term goal is to consolidate VIU's reputation as an authority on such areas.

VIU member institutions

- _ Boston College (USA)
- _ Duke University (USA)
- _ European University at St. Petersburg (Russia)
- _ INRS – Institut National de la Recherche Scientifique (Canada)
- _ KU Leuven (Belgium)
- _ Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität (Germany)
- _ Tel Aviv University (Israel)
- _ Tongji University (China)
- _ Tsinghua University (China)
- _ Università Ca' Foscari Venezia (Italy)
- _ Università degli Studi di Padova (Italy);
- _ Università degli Studi di Roma "Tor Vergata"
- _ Università Iuav di Venezia (Italy)
- _ Université de Bordeaux (France)
- _ Université de Lausanne (Switzerland)
- _ Waseda University (Japan)
- _ CNR - National Research Council (Italy)
- _ Città Metropolitana di Venezia (Italy)

VIU invites professors from its member universities to submit proposals for joint intensive graduate activities, to be developed in partnership with other member universities.

_ VIU International PhD Academy

This is an intensive training program for PhD candidates from the member universities of VIU. The Academy is a 7-10 day program, which includes a scientific program and a parallel program of training and workshops that provides PhD candidates with training in a range of skills that will be useful in developing their research and academic careers.

_ VIU Graduate Seminars

These are thematic intensive seminars given in a concentrated period on subjects of universal interest, open to a broad spectrum of disciplines. They are suited to both Master's and PhD students and are open to candidates from all the VIU member institutions. Significant cooperation among departments in the member universities is expected.

_ VIU Summer/Winter Schools

These are intensive taught programs that may be offered for successive years. They may be addressed to students of varying levels, depending on the program. The Schools are also open to applicants outside of the VIU membership.

How to submit a proposal

Preliminary proposals must be submitted by September 15, 2017 for activities that will take place during 2018-2019. The proposals will be discussed and evaluated at the fall meeting of the VIU Academic Council.

Based on the decisions of the Academic Council, successful preliminary proposals should be developed and the final program proposals submitted by February 28, 2018 for discussion and evaluation at the Spring meeting (usually late March or April).

Interdisciplinary and collaborative approaches

The Academic Council would welcome in particular proposals that adopt interdisciplinary approaches, that include contributive and collaborative teaching and participation, and that have an international group of professors and students involved.

All proposals should address the questions:

- _ Why now?
- _ Why at VIU?
- _ What is the added value for VIU and for the universities?
